THE INCONSISTENCY OF THE MEDICAL CLOSED SHOP.
 While it seems to be widely accepted as quite a reasonable attitude to dispute the right of the street railwaymen, the electricians, or, in fact, any of that large class who serve the community industrially, to the closed shop, Edmonton just at the present time is being treated to an exhibition of the closed shop in another line which is accepted as the right thing without even a murmur of dissent; namely, the medical profession.

Not only do the medical men demand the closed shop, but they have little difficulty in having their demand enforced by law. During the past few days a number of cases have gone through the police court in which the charge was that certain men have practised medicine without the necessary certificate—or working card—bearing the imprimatur of the officials of the medical association.

The argument upon which the medical association demands that it be given the right to say who shall and who shall not be allowed to practise medicine is based upon the representation that to permit the indiscriminate practise of medicine would be to invite a menace to the lives of citizens. Undoubtedly this argument is good; but if it is good will regard to medicine it should be equally good with regard, for instance, to electricity, as a vagrant current released by a slip shod electrician is not less potentially dangerous than a failure to properly handle a disease.

The obvious answer is that in all services upon which public safety is immediately contingent, such as medicine, electricity, plumbing, architecture, dentistry and a number of others, those who would engage therein should first of all be required to satisfy an examining board appointed by the province. After that, they could associate or not, just as they choose. But to give the medical men the right to say who may safely be entrusted to practise and withhold the same right from the plumbers, the electricians and others similarly situated is manifestly inconsistent.

"YOU CAN'T UNSCRAMBLE SCRAMBLED EGGS."

Men who prognosticate far into the future are commencing to speculate upon Colonel Roosevelt's chances for the presidency in 1916. Perhaps the idea is that the man who would so completely smash the party machine in 1912 should have no difficulty in fixing it four years later. Whether this prognostication will work out to a demonstration remains to be seen; but certain it is that Roosevelt represents a phase of public sentiment which finds expression neither in the old republican camp nor yet in the newer democratic phalanx.

The biggest elemental principle upon which the Roosevelt theory differs from that of either of the other parties is upon the trust question. While the old line republicans have long since become the party of the trusts, believing that prosperity can be promoted best by leaving big business alone to organize at will, irrespective of whether the organization is for exploitation or industrialism, the Bryan-Wilson party harbors the belief that the big business organizations can be taken apart and the parts set back in their original position as competitive units. The Roosevelt answer to both these is that the trust is the natural evolution, but must be regulated. As Morgan puts it: "You can't unscramble scrambled eggs," and the trust cannot successfully be disintegrated, Bryan and Wilson to the contrary, notwithstanding. But also the nation cannot continue to carry the ever-increasing burden of over-capitalization which the trusts are loading upon the industry of the country when they proceed to seize the economies of consolidated production and capitalize the same in the form of watered stock.

The Roosevelt answer is undoubtedly the sane answer. The time when the electors of United States will recognize it may not be in 1916; but it will come some day. The people of United States will continue to pay interest or dividends in their freight rates upon two dollars where only one dollar is represented in equipment. But, first of all, they must discover that this is what they are doing now.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS AS PLAIN NEWS.

In the municipal election campaign now opening in the city of Edmonton, the Capital proposes, for the benefit of its readers, to give the subject an entirely new treatment by reporting the progress of the campaign as impartially as the subject of politics can be written upon, without respect to the chances of any candidate and without espousing the cause of any seeking election, simply leaving it to the reader to form his own conclusions from the reports.

In its municipal politics, quite as much as in other affairs, the public is entitled to a matter-of-fact record of events, and with the city's business growing to such proportions and affecting, as it does, the welfare of every citizen, public safety demands that citizens be not left to form their judgments through a process of guess work as to how much of the news stories served up to them are correct representations of what happened and how much are high-lights picked out and heralded for the purpose of boosting some candidate or misrepresenting another candidate.

In attempting to serve its readers with an unbiased news story of the events and speeches of the campaign, the Capital hopes to be able to be of greater service to its readers than can be either of its contemporaries, which are frankly the advocates of a certain set of candidates, and which do not hesitate to tinge the reports of proceedings with a bias which makes their daily accounts of proceedings worthless as news stories.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

The Halifax fishery award in favor of Canada was paid in London by the United States minister 25 years ago today. The fisheries of Canada and the United States had been made free to the citizens of both countries by the treaty of 1817, but it was agreed that Canada should be paid a sum commensurate with the difference in value, but everything in his home district calls him "Alfalfa Bill." Mr. Murray prides himself on that, and if any of his constituents called him William Murray, he would be seriously offended. Mr. Murray is a native of Ontario, and was born at Collingwood, Ont., just 44 years ago today, and his subsequent career has been just one thing after another. At 12, he ran away from home, and— to quote from his official biography— "he has since punched out, chopped cordwood, worked in brickyards, been a farm laborer, reported for and edited newspapers, taught school, practised law, and is now an extensive farmer and planter." He is a bachelor of Science, College Hill Institute, St. Catharines, Ontario, and has been a member of the Ontario legislature. During his journalistic career he was editor of the Farmer's Weekly of Dallas, Texas, and of the Canadian Farmer of Toronto. After his admission to the bar in 1896 he practised law in Port Huron, Michigan, and then removed to Tishomingo, where he married a niece of the governor of the Oklahoma statehood movement, and as president of the constitutional convention he carried the title of "The Father of the Oklahoma Constitution." He was speaker of the Oklahoma legislature before going to Washington. He is, according to his own admission, "convinced that the Oklahoma is a remarkable parliamentary democracy." He was the Wilson leader in his state during the Presidential campaign of 1912, and at one time it was rumored that "Alfalfa Bill" would be rewarded with a cabinet portfolio.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Alfalfa's Birthday Recalls Memorable Deeds of Will

Alfalfa's birthday was celebrated in this city today by the admirers of the immortal French philosopher and wit, as it is called, who every 21st of November lives over a century. The anniversary recalls the memorable deed of will by which Alfalfa and Piton, the epigrammatist, they had exchanged challenges for a literary duel, and Alfalfa was to attempt to win the prize possible letter. It was on this birthday, when Alfalfa was but a boy, that he wrote for a day's holiday, that he wrote to his admirers, "I am going into the country." Piton's reply was even briefer, "I am going into the country." Alfalfa, who was a Latin means "go." Alfalfa has been the subject of numerous jokes, and on one occasion, it is related, he remonstrated with a young poet who had suffered his verses to have been used, "I am going into the country," he declared the youth, in extenuation. "I am not a poet," Alfalfa replied, the philosopher, Victor Hugo, whose reply to Alfalfa at a celebration of the latter reads: "The classics of French oratory, and also engaged in a duel of severity. Being absent from Paris, and desiring to know how his new novel, 'Les Misérables,' was selling, he wrote to his publisher, 'I am going into the country,' and the latter replied with an expressive and triumphant 'Go!'"

TANGO IS IMMORAL.

Rome, Nov. 21.—The Vatican, replying to several bishops who sought advice regarding the tango and other modern dances, declares that the tango must be considered immoral. It is, therefore, forbidden to Catholics. This bishop asked if confessors had given communion to those who danced the tango. Women wearing silk shifts have been forbidden by several bishops to attend services in church.

San Antonio school children are being taught to employ tooth-brushes regularly.

To the Ratepayers and Tenants of the City of Edmonton

Ladies and Gentlemen,—At the request of a number of the recognized best business men of this city to offer myself as a candidate for alderman at the forthcoming civic election, I have consented to do so.

I have been a resident of Edmonton since 1902, and believe that I should be able to do good work as a member of the city council. If you, the electors, choose to elect me, I will most assuredly appreciate your confidence and support. Should I be elected, I have only one promise to make, and that is, that I will endeavor to serve the city, and the city only, to the best of my ability.

That a plebiscite should be taken before the next session of the legislature to obtain the views of the electors on the question of municipal government by elective commission, meets with my approval.

Yours respectfully,
 J. R. MCINTOSH.

After several years in London, he joined the editorial staff of the Spectator, and devoted himself entirely to literature until his death in 1900. He was a member of the Royal Society, and his chief work, "The Quiller-Couches," as he is called "for short," was published in 1897 to finish Robert Louis Stevenson's unfinished novel, "St. Ives." His home is in his native Cornwall, and he finds his chief recreation in writing and sailing.

New Bedford, Mass., was the birthplace, 78 years ago today, of Hettie Howard Robinson, later celebrated the world over as the first woman novelist. Her father, a prominent business man, was a Quaker, and she was educated in the Quaker school. Her first novel, "The World's Rarest Jewel," was published in 1900. She has since written several other novels, and is now a resident of New Bedford, Mass.

That such a body apparatus has advantages over the bath room in a sanatorium or bath house such as are in use at hot springs, mineral water baths, etc. The reason for this is very simple when one considers the low temperature of moist baths in comparison with the high temperature of dry hot air baths given with a good hot air apparatus. Personally I believe that people who are not sick who are in the habit of taking baths of various kinds, in bath houses should take the hot air baths at a physician's office, and they would be much better pleased.

Dry Hot Air Treatment Conquers The Dread Scourge of Mankind

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout and Other Ailments, Due to Bad Blood and Poor Circulation, Eradicated From System by the Human Bake Oven

J. A. Burnett, M.D., of Arkinda, Ark., Describes the Treatment in an Article Published in The Therapeutic Review of St. Louis, Fully Endorsing Its Principles

Describing the Dry Hot Air or Human Bake Oven Treatment, which is employed at the Edmonton Sanatorium, 634 Fourth Street, just a few steps north of Jasper Avenue, for the eradication of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, gout and other disorders due to bad blood and poor circulation, J. A. Burnett, M.D., of Arkinda, Ark., one of the best practitioners in the southwest, makes the following statements in an article published in the April issue of The Therapeutic Review of St. Louis, Mo., a journal devoted to the consideration and elevation of every branch of therapeutics:

"The dry hot air treatment that I have reference to is given with a hot air apparatus made especially for this purpose. In these apparatuses dry hot air treatment up to 200 degrees F. can be given. When we consider that water boils at 212 degrees F., and 174 degrees F. is as hot as most baths as can be tolerated, we must believe there is something unusual about the 200 degrees F. dry hot air bath or treatment."

It is really a bath, but also a treatment. When the body is used the patient is stripped naked and wrapped in Turkish towels, and then placed in the apparatus. The towels absorb the moisture and prevent the heat from burning the patient. It is only an extremely dry heat, and the patient is treated in the apparatus before being placed in the apparatus.

Protection to Patients These hot air baths or treatments are not only useful in the treatment of diseases, but are important as a prophylactic measure. The dry hot air baths, including Turkish, Russian, mud, hot springs, mineral water baths, etc. The reason for this is very simple when one considers the low temperature of moist baths in comparison with the high temperature of dry hot air baths given with a good hot air apparatus. Personally I believe that people who are not sick who are in the habit of taking baths of various kinds, in bath houses should take the hot air baths at a physician's office, and they would be much better pleased.

One writer says in regard to the body apparatus:

"This apparatus is for general diseases in which a marked diaphoretic effect is wanted. Aside from the fact that high temperature can be borne when the air is perfectly dry, the fresh cool air the patient is subjected to breathe while the entire body is subjected to the beneficial influence of heat makes the treatment most pleasant and effective than the time-honored hot Turkish, Russian or vapor baths, etc., or even any of the hot springs. In general rheumatism, gonorrhea, Bright's disease and syphilis no better treatment can be instituted."

Dr. H. D. Bishop reports three cures in six cases of traumatic sciatica with hot air.

Dr. Hutchinson says: "Nothing can compare with the relief obtained from a treatment of dry hot air at a temperature of 450 to 500 degrees F. in sprains."

Gives Excellent Results There are many reports to prove that dry hot air treatment is of especial value in sprains. In human foot treatment with dry hot air gives good results. The various forms of backaches can be benefited by the hot air treatment.

Dr. R. M. Stetert says: "The surgical side of the profession has long monopolized the established hospitals and charitable institutions will scarcely be questioned nor that the special facilities thus obtained have benefited the art and skill of the operating surgeon. Far be it from the desire of the writer to detract in any way from the glory of modern surgery or even to impugn the value of this branch of the profession for its branch of advancement; but that therapeutics or other than along surgical lines should advance in due proportion and in such proportion as to render the knife many times unnecessary, some form of institutional facilities should be recognized and encouraged by the profession as they are by the laity for want of such facilities under the hands of the really brilliant and educated physicians are led to try the so-called 'medical institutes' for treatment can be used with great effect in connection with other forms of treatment. As a rule most all cases will do best with the continuous treatment, the hot air being used as an adjunct. The other forms of treatment may be many and various, as drugs internally, externally, or hypodermically, as well as by inhalations or other methods."

Treatment Requires Skill The layman has no business trying to apply this form of baths. It is very simple, but still requires skill.

Dr. C. E. Skinner says: "It is not to be expected that every general practitioner will or can become a hot air expert; but every physician should at least understand the principles of its application and the clinical results derived therefrom in order that he may be able to decide intelligently when his patient is benefited by its use. If he does not care to undertake its active administration he can send his patient to some one who is an expert."

The Edmonton Sanatorium, 634 Fourth Street, is under the direction of a superintendent who has had wide and successful experience in Canada and the United States in the application of dry hot air treatment. Trained nurses are in attendance to care for women and children.

Woman's Strange Project for Theatre

London, Nov. 22.—An 8-cent theatre for London. "Tragic," drama, comedy, farce—Helen, Marion, Shaw, and Pinner, all to be played in a people's theatre, where every seat is the same price—8 cents. This is the ideal of Miss Rosina Philp.

"I take my model," said Miss Philp, "from the Theatre, old Popolo in Milan, which was opened by Mrs. Mason three years ago as an educational, philanthropic sort of venture, and has paid its way ever since."

"The theatre is situated in the Via Reina, the thieves' quarter of the city. I would not say that its patronage is 'low,' but they are black-smiths and street laborers and the working classes generally. 'There is one price, 8 cents, for all the seats."

"Only once were the prices raised, and that was when a royal commission of university students from Padua came over to give a classical Greek play—in Italian, of course."

"The management thought their ordinary patrons would not be so much shocked as they raised the prices, but the ordinary patrons swarmed in in larger crowds than ever, and when the people of the fashionable part of Milan arrived there was not a seat left in the house."

"The first 15, the Italian people will pay to see fine drama. At the Teatro di Popolo they play D'Annunzio, Dumas and Galsworthy, to mention only a few of their favorite dramatists. There is a constantly changing repertory."

"Now Milan has only about a fourth the number of people that there are in London, so we should want more than one people's theatre. I would first start one in Chelsea, where the artist element is strong and would support it, and then the double, however, that we should soon have all London at our back."

PRINCESS MARY
EARNS $1250 FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Works at Needlework and Spends Money in Helping Poor People.

London, Nov. 21.—An interesting illustration of the manner in which Queen Mary is bringing up her children is told in the papers today. It is said that Princess Mary, the daughter of the king and queen, has earned by her own labors no less than £250 for charity as the result of her own labors in 11 months. The story is that from her childhood the princess has always been anxious to work, and that some six years ago the queen gave her a number of Venetian glass beads, which Princess Mary converted into necklaces, selling them to her friends for from ten to six shillings each. It is also said that the princess is a diligent seamstress, and that, no matter what her other engagements may be, she devotes several hours a day to needlework, which is afterwards sold for the use of the various charitable funds in which the royal family are interested.

There are reports that last Christmas Princess Mary, with the aid of her two old brothers, organized a Santa Claus expedition of their own, prior to the departure of the family for the Christmas reunion at Sandringham and that they paid visits to many poor people who would otherwise not have known any Christmas and arranged that their gifts should be properly delivered on Christmas eve.

In this good work the princess had her mother's assistance, her mother's spending some time each morning with the princess in their needlework, and when state engagements compelled the queen's absence, then Princess Mary's overtime to keep up to the mark which her mother has set. Princess Mary will probably spend the greater part of next year in Germany, with a view to improving her knowledge of German and other continental languages.

LITTLE DARLING LITTLE DAISY

The Softest, Finest, Most Durable
Hosiery for Infants and Children

We cannot speak too highly of the absolutely unequalled quality of "LITTLE DARLING" and "LITTLE DAISY" Hosiery for infants and children—nothing but the softest, strongest Australian Lamb's wool.

We could not put better quality of material or workmanship into "LITTLE DARLING" and "LITTLE DAISY" Hosiery if we sold them for five times the price. It is impossible to make a better child's or infant's stocking, and the price is no more but even less than you will pay for inferior hosiery.

You of course wish to buy only the warmest, softest hosiery for your children—and when that hosiery is also the strongest, the most durable, and costs no more than inferior kinds, you will find that you can not only gratify that wish, but save money on this important item of children's dress.

"Little Darling" and "Little Daisy" Stockings are dyed with fast sanitary dyes. In the color best suited for children—Pink, Sky Blue, Cardinal, Black, Tan and Cream.

Every pair is stamped with the Sunshine trade mark—insist on seeing it.

"Little Darling" Stockings have a slitted heel and toe and are in all sizes for children up to seven years old.

"Little Daisy" Hosiery has the heel and toe reinforced with an extra thread, in all sizes to fit children under twelve. Your dealer carries them.

WATER CURE NEW SAVIOR FOR INSANE

Fifty-five Per Cent. of Patients in Stockton Hospital Cured by New Method

THE OLD SYSTEM
A COMPLETE FAILURE
Remarkable Results Reported at Institution After Short Time Use of Modern Treatment.

Stockton, Cal., Nov. 21.—Scientific methods have made the cure of fully 55 per cent. of insane persons taken to the Stockton State Hospital in the United States.

This was the positive declaration of Dr. Fred P. Clark, medical superintendent of the institution.

The hydro-therapeutic process, supplemented by the new re-educational method of working curative exercises, which give assurance of an almost complete victory over "insane" patients, the prevailing form of insanity afflicting a very large proportion of the inmates of State hospitals.

Since the introduction of the "water cure" at the State Hospital, the percentage of recoveries has increased enormously. Acute cases, due to alcoholism, worry, overwork, and similar causes, have been rapidly relieved by medicine, are either relieved of mental anxiety or prevented from becoming violently insane.

Now It Is Applied

Acute insanity, however, on the basis of cerebral, nervous disorders or insanity, conditions of living, results yield to the hydro-therapeutic treatment, which is infinitely less than the medical system in varying degrees of temperature and force. Nature is assisted in the process of cure, and the patient is restored to a normal condition by the gradual elimination of the brain.

"Under the old system," said Dr. Clark, "a patient was brought to the institution already insane, with his system clogged with poisons resulting from the failure of the eliminating function."

"There are some women patients who showed absolutely no interest in anything when they were committed. This was the result of the anatomic condition of the brain. They were about the water cure, which restored the circulation, and now they are recovered."

Five Hundred Restored

"During the month of June, 1913, patients in this hospital, there are fully 550 who would have been restored to useful citizenship and hydro-therapy been practiced earlier. Now, well, they will be here. It is too late to help them. Except in cases in which insanity is caused by disease or injury, which break down the mind factors, or in which it is paralytic in character, and we can set them in time, the prognosis is favorable in about 55 per cent."

MUNICIPAL NEWS.

City Gets a Job—

The city has been given another job by the new law government in the shape of a remainder that the sum of $133,000 and interest on same from 1912 at the rate of five per cent. is still unpaid. This big account is for telephone equipment to be installed by the city from the government at that time. The letter was read in the commission's meeting Wednesday afternoon and referred to the mayor, who has been handling these matters of late.

Preparing Estimates—

The city commissioners are working overtime on the preparation of the estimates for the year 1914. They held a meeting Wednesday and went over some of the estimates that have been received from the departments. It will be at least 10 days yet before the total estimates have been revised and completed. In the stores and warehouse department the large sum of $2,630,700 is estimated for current expenditures, and $112,500 for capital account for next year.

Will Build Canal—

To assist the residents of North Edmonton in abating the nuisance of having stray cattle running at large on the streets, the chief of police has arranged for the constructing of a canal in the rear of the new police station. He recommends that it is not absolutely necessary to establish a pound now, as this may well be taken care of in the spring.

Sidewalk in West—

A petition signed by residents living west of 42nd street has been submitted to the city council, requesting the construction of some kind of a sidewalk. The petition will be considered with the others for similar work now on hand.

Four Rinks Ready—

Superintendent Jackson of the city play grounds, has reported to the city that four of the new rinks are now ready for flooding and the superintendent of the waterworks department has been notified. These rinks will soon be in operation and are located in Norwood, Garman, Parkdale and Queens.

Wants to See Calgary—

Superintendent Lindholm of the stores and warehouse department has asked the commissioners for leave of absence for a few days that he may attend Calgary for the purpose of looking into the system in vogue in that city and the stores and warehouse department of Edmonton. The commissioners are considering the application.

Inadequate Lighting—

The council members are in receipt of a letter from F. T. Fisher, secretary of the board of trade, in which he draws attention to the inadequate lighting in the west end. A communication was also received from the Highlands on the same subject. These letters have been referred to the superintendent of the light department, who is rushing along as fast as possible the completion of the new street lighting program.

ARE YOU DROOPY, TIRED, WORN OUT?

Here is Good Advice to All Who Feel as if Their Vigor and Life Had Oozed Away

This Condition Can be Quickly Cured by a Good Cleansing Medicine.

Your experience is probably somewhat similar to that described by Mr. J. T. Fleming in the following letter from his home in Lehigh, Pa. "I don't must have the most sluggish sort of a liver. In the morning my mouth was bitter, and that foul, sick feeling that tells you, 'No breakfast needed here this morning.' A cup of coffee would sort of brace me up, but in two hours I was disposed to quit work, all energy having oozed out of me. Supper was my only good meal, but I guess I didn't digest very well. I dreamt I went to bed. A friend of mine put me wise to Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I think they must have taken hold of my liver, because my stomach, too, because at the very start they made things go right. Look at me now, strong in the day-time, not hesitating for the mighty dollar and getting fun out of life every minute. Thanks what Dr. Hamilton's Pills have done for me—they have rebuilt and rejuvenated my entire system."

To keep free from headaches, to feel young and bright, to enjoy your friends, to sleep sound and look your best, nothing can help like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, five for $1.00 at all druggists and storekeepers or postpaid from The Cataractine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

CHICAGO LAND SHOW.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—The land show opened Thursday with exhibits showing products of many agricultural sections of this country. The United States exhibit includes dry land farming, reclamation of desert lands and road building. A special exhibit by the department of agriculture shows the result of education.

QUEEN HAD INFLUENZA.

Paris, Nov. 21.—The Queen of Spain was stricken Wednesday with a severe attack of influenza, and reports that a vast amount of damage has been caused by the disease. The queen is in bed, and the king is in attendance. Her condition, while not seriously dangerous, is sufficiently serious to cause the postponement of a visit which King Alfonso and his consort intended to make to the Emperor Francis Joseph at Vienna. Dr. Roda said tonight that if the queen's illness took a favorable course she could not expect to leave her bed for four or five days.

STORM CAUSED MUCH DAMAGE.

Tueslain, Ont., Nov. 21.—Woodmen and hunters are coming out of the timber country in and adjacent to the Mississippi forest reserve, and report that a vast amount of damage has been caused by the storm. The storm estimated the amount of fallen timber at no less than 10 per cent.

Pay Under Protest—

Many taxpayers are paying their taxes this year under protest and have written letters to the commissioners in which they state their grievances. In most cases the home of contention is the fact that the special assessments are for work which has either been only partially completed, or in many cases not even started.

Schools for Public Meetings—

Albertain Smith, Calder and Douglas spent some time yesterday with the mayor in arranging a list of schools to be used for campaign meetings along the lines suggested by the school board in a letter submitted to council on Tuesday evening. These meetings will be open for all candidates seeking municipal honors as well as to all others who may wish to address the citizens in attendance. The list of schools and the dates of the meetings will be announced shortly.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS SATIRE, NOVELTY AND THRILLS ARE IN READY MONEY

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other wasting disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as severe a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest son, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine for her, and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and feel that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

One of William A. Brady's Successes Will Play at Empire.

No comedy produced in recent years has received more praise from the press of New York, London, Chicago and Boston than "Ready Money" (no comedy of five, romance and thrills, which William A. Brady, Ltd., will offer for the first time in this city at the Empire theatre for three nights and Saturday matinee, beginning Thursday, November 27th, with Robert Ober.

The novelty of its story, the satire of the lines, and the thrills of its drama are said to combine in this unique play the best qualities a dramatist can supply for comedy and drama. There is a strong love story, based on the proposition that no man can succeed without the help of the right kind of a girl. The hero of "Ready Money" is invited to get wealth in order to get a wife. The means he uses to get it, and the play with many thrilling incidents.

During the remarkable run of "Ready Money" at the New theatre, London, the Queen of England witnessed the play twice and pronounced it "the first story I have yet seen on the stage."

Red Men of Canada are Gradually Increasing

Are Becoming More Industrious, Intelligent, Moral, Self-Reliant and Self-Respecting—Number 1,534 More Than Last Year—Death Rate Heavy Where They Live Near Towns.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—The red men of Canada show no signs of following the American shoe to the happy hunting grounds of their forefathers westward in the land of the setting sun. In other words, the Indians of Canada are increasing in population, and are becoming more industrious, intelligent, moral, self-reliant and self-respecting citizens throughout the land which their forefathers originally owned. This is the outstanding feature of the annual report of the department of Indian affairs issued yesterday.

The present Indian population of the dominion is given as 106,000, against 104,256 at the end of the last fiscal year.

There were decreases in some of the tribes, but these were mostly caused by the Indians moving from one province to the other.

Quebec shows a gain, its present Indian population being 12,842, an increase of 25 for the year.

Suffer From Consumption.

As has been experienced for many years past, tuberculosis continues to be the most formidable of all the maladies from which the Indian race has to suffer.

The department is doing everything in its power to educate them to the importance of observing the vital laws of hygiene, and by teaching them the value of good housing conditions, is doing much to reduce the number of tubercular cases among them.

A curious feature of the report is that the death rate among the various tribes is extraordinarily heavy, when they live in close proximity to big towns. One Indian agent reports that the advent of the moving picture has had considerable to do with increasing the mortality rate of the race. He points out that Indians will travel miles to the cities in the evening to see the "movies," often in inclement weather, and revivify a numerous death which he traces to their having returned home late to damp and unsanitary houses, where conditions were not conducive to health. In almost every case it is found that the death rate is greater and the moral standard lower, when the tribe has easy access to a city.

Improvement in Living.

During the year, there has, according to the report, been a marked improvement in the mode of living among the red men generally.

The Indian is rapidly becoming better educated. At present there are 249 day, 59 boarding and 19 industrial schools in operation during the year, a total of 225 of all classes.

The Indian, according to the report, is losing his love for "fire water." The government, however, through its agencies has been very active in its endeavors to suppress the alcohol traffic in Indian lands, and during the past year the fines collected aggregated over $2400 more than those collected the previous year.

Criminals and murderers during the year were very slight and there was not a single vicious criminal case reported to the department. The birth rate during the year averaged about 22 per 1,000, while the mortality rate was about 23 per 1,000. At the close of the 12 months ended March 31, 1912, the capital of the Indian Trust Fund, which at the end of the preceding year amounted to $7,070,127, had increased to $7,757,152.

The amount expended from the Consolidated revenue fund voted by parliament for the purpose of the department, was $1,818,130.

AT THE ROYAL

A two-reel feature telling the thrilling story of a Kentucky feud is at the Royal today.

"The Man in the Street" is a thrilling story of a man who aspires to be a detective and the film shows how he succeeded. A funny Edison comedy entitled "Mr. Cammell and His Bride" shows how a young couple leave their country home and run away to be married. They have an awful time dodging papa, who, however, only wishes to add his blessing.

NOT QUANTITY BUT QUALITY

Once Had a Hundred Different Steps But Now Only Twelve.

"Several years ago I could dance for half an hour and never repeat the same steps. Today I use only 12 different steps, and yet today I am regarded as truly a dancer, while a few years ago I was nobody. In a word I am a character dancer," says Fred Sully, of the Five Sults, features of the Orpheum vaudeville hall at the Empire theatre the first half of next week.

"I remember," says he, "that Lucy Daly once said to me: 'Fred, dance with your head, arms and body, and the audience will not care much what you do with your feet.' And she was right. Audiences today demand that dancing numbers be character studies. There may be many who can dance neatly and gracefully enough. The point is to present an act that will be the result of study, each number an artistic picture."

M'KENZIE'S PETS HAVE INITIAL HOCKEY TRYOUT

All the Old Players Show in Form in Their Work Out Last Night.

Manager McKenzie's pets had their first workout last night at the Central rink, and, considering it was the first hockey practice of the year, the boys showed a lot of form and will be a strong feature in the winter's field for championship honors.

Among the old-timers to turn out were Hines, Lee and Lloyd Cook, Stanley, Munner and McQueen. Teller, an eastern player was out to practice and looks like a good thing for the forward line.

Following the practice the team adjourned to the Y.M.C.A. and had a hot shower and a rub down. Manager McKenzie stated it is his intention to try and make arrangements to have the use of the Y. for the team this winter.

"Everything looks very promising for a successful year," said Manager McKenzie, in conversation with the Capital's sports editor last night following the practice, and if anything the line up will be stronger than that of last year, and with so much talent in the rink there is every prospect for an exceptionally good year in hockey circles.

SPRING MEET ARRANGED.

New York, Nov. 21.—A spring exhibition series between the New York American League team and the Brooklyn National League teams was arranged yesterday. The series is to consist of five games, on April 2, 3, 4, 5 and 11, all to be played at Ebbets field, in Brooklyn as the New York Nationals exhibition arrangements call for the use of the Ebbets grounds by the Giants during the April.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE

BY
THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER

even if they had gotten "Jimmy" Callahan to turkey trot with the major of each town as an added attraction. But the citizens just looked to the game through snow storms and blizzards. Well, I should think the physicians of the middle west ought to give the world's tourists a share of their olive branches for the winter. Guess we should trade for them all right. I know the weather got me. A cold settled in my head and eyes and I had an insupportable sneeze for four days.

Wingo was also sick, and Harry Scamrow, the hostess manager, quit the party in Dallas to go to the hospital. All our luck seemed to break in Texas. McGraw and word there that his mother-in-law had died, and he had to visit "Pete" Kinella's back to turn Mrs. McGraw around. She was on the way to join the party in El Paso for the trip around the world. It is superstitious whether she can reach Vancouver in time now.

The railroad service we got in Texas was very bad. Nobody ever seemed to think to let a diner on to our train, and every time, we ate. It was an even gamble whether we would ever get an opportunity to eat again in time to prevent starvation.

We were going down over some little joint railroad one night, and the rails were so tight that the heavy cars of the special could not be run over them fast. We lost five hours on our schedule. The railroad company had arranged to look on the diner at 5 o'clock in the morning. Instead, I met at 1 in the afternoon.

We all hurried in some food and went out to play a game of ball. McGraw was certainly sore, and he hit the wire for Chicago. He said a lot of things about the service and arrangements for the party that made me wonder the wire could stand it. He acted like he was talking to an umpire who had pulled a raw one on him.

Another night we were heading to Richmond where we were scheduled to arrive at 1 in the morning, in the first time since leaving Cincinnati in the special. Specials are all right to sleep in, but a bed is preferable for a permanent arrangement. The train was three hours late, and we all got dumped out at 4 in the morning. It was not a very comfortable night.

Verily, verily this trip has been a great test for the disposition of the "honey-moovers," we having five examples with us. They stood the rough fringe fine, though, and I don't hear a single argument. Let them try to do the same thing two years from now under similar adverse conditions and see if their temperamental shock absorbers are working as smoothly.

The latter part of the trip across the continent was very enjoyable. I certainly am struck on California. I expect to remain out here on the Pacific slope all winter and put in my time playing golf and writing a little for newspapers and magazines. Two or three times during the trip across the continent I was strongly tempted to go all the way around the world. It was the chance of a life time to make the trip.

The party is composed of the best bunch of fellows that was ever gotten together. I hated to leave it on this account. We had a good time on the way to the coast. We were royally entertained in the various towns all along the route. I know it will be the same in foreign countries, only the style of entertainment will be more novel and the digits stronger to Yankee eyes.

But I pass all this up for two reasons. One is that I hate to travel on a boat—abhor it, in fact, to the extent of absolute refusal. In short, I get seasick, and I don't like the sensation. McGraw tried to talk me out of the notion.

"You'll only be sick two or three days," he said. But I know different. My other reason for not going is that I want a rest from baseball. I have been working at it at a Big League pace for more than 12 years now. I want to forget it entirely this winter so I can come back stronger next season. If I pitched all winter I would probably be stale next summer, because I am no longer a recruit.

The boys heard the other day that they would all have to be vaccinated in this country in order to be admitted to Japan.

"I'm for cutting the Japs right off our calling list if they insist on foolish stuff like that," declared "Larry" Doyle. "The last time I was vaccinated my arm was as big as a barrel."

LEVINSKY K.O.'S HAGEN

New York, Nov. 21.—Ed Hagen, the latest aspirant for the heavyweight championship was knocked out in the seventh round of a 10-round bout with Battling Levinsky, the Philadelphia light-heavyweight, here tonight. Gust Smith was to have been Hagen's opponent but a damaged eye, received in his fight with Sam Langford, caused Smith to withdraw and Levinsky was substituted to meet the man from the northwest. Levinsky weighed 176 pounds, while Hagen was 191 pounds heavier.

PECKY STARTS TO TRAIN FOR BOUL WITH SMITH TODAY

Confirmation of Acceptance of Terms Was Secured Yesterday.

(Special to Capital.)
Colony, Nov. 21.—Arthur Peckley started training in private today in preparation for his bout with Gunboat Smith in California on New Year's Day. Word was received yesterday from the Los Angeles promoter stating that Smith's manager had agreed to the terms and that the bout could be as well considered as clinched. The articles of the match have been signed by the promoter and are now on the way to Colony.

No announcement will be made for a while as to the place where Peckley will be working out. The preliminary training will be strictly private and even the close followers of the game in this city will be in the dark for a few days. However, the training camp has been established in the downtown district and Peckley will probably give a number of public exhibitions before he leaves for the south.

Right now Peckley is in good physical condition. He weighs less than 16 pounds more than he did at the time he last stepped into the ring. His bartending trip helped him in some of the finer points of the boxing game and it will take but very little work to get him into fighting trim.

In making arrangements for the bout, Manager Burns insisted that the articles read for the boxes to protect themselves at all times with no interference from the referee except in case of continued holding. As long as the men are in action the referee is not to break them.

This is an altogether different kind of game to that with the Alberta fairs have been accustomed to. It will allow of all kinds of infighting without clean breaks. It will be a real battle from start to finish.

Tommy Burns has requested that Ed Smith or Otto Fisto act as referee of the contest. The probabilities are that Smith will be the third man in the ring.

Tommy Burns will act as Peckley's sparring partner while the pair remain in this city.

CANADIAN HORSE OWNERS STILL WIN AT NEW YORK

Rodden, of Montreal, and Sifton, still Going Strong for Ribbons.

New York, Nov. 21.—Canadian exhibitors carried off the honors at yesterday afternoon's session of the horse show in the contest for pairs of jumpers going over the hurdles. It was Sarah Moore and Billy, the entry of Captain W. T. Rodden, of Montreal, and ridden by Major D. Donohue, Young, and Captain Walker H. Bell, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, gave a splendid performance. They took the hurdles cleanly and worked so closely together that they seemed moved by one rider. They took the blue ribbon.

Winning over the Sifton entry, The Wasp and Elmhurst, ridden by Jack Hamilton and Captain J. W. Sifton, after a spirited contest. The decision for third place between the Glen Ridge Farm and the French team, was also close, the Virgilian and Willow being victorious over the Pennsylvania exhibitor.

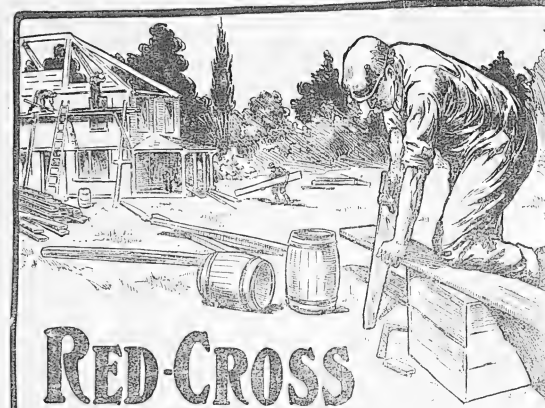

Lieut. William H. Sheppard, third add artillery, in competition with other officers of the United States army, won permanent possession of the Marshall Cup. With the same horse, Marshall, he won the trophy last year. Lieut. W. G. Fetter, of the 1st Cavalry, took second place, while third went to Lieut. Leroy P. Collins, on Dragoon. The successful pair, represented by Lord Deedes, competition for it being restricted to United States army officers riding government-owned horses.

New York, Nov. 21.—Army officers, riding two abreast, put their horses over the jumps in the international event last night. Great Britain's winners from Berlin, which was second, and Canada came in third.

How does it "burn"?

Cigar "burn" denotes the quality of workmanship, as well as the character of the leaf used in the making of a cigar. A cigar that burns free and even is pretty sure to be a good smoke.

Webster's Clear Havanas

are perfectly made and the tobacco used is Cuba's finest. Is it any wonder that they "burn" freely, with a clear white ash?

Cuban tobacco crop quality varies greatly—1912 was exceptional—we bought heavily of that fine crop to insure the quality of Webster's clear Havanas for several years to come.

Sold at most good stores in various shapes and sizes.

Popular "Brevia" shape, two-for-a-quarter.

"Double Ripening!"

As a result of the "double ripening" of W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook, bottled in bond at 7 to 8 year old, this Kentucky bourbon whiskey has been famous during three generations.

Yet the price you pay is no more than for any 4 to 5 year old bottled in bond whiskeys. Cedar Brook is always the same and is never "extra priced" according to age.

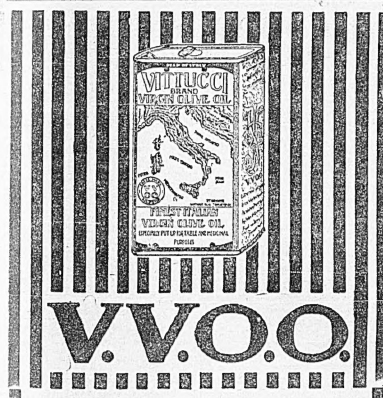

No whiskey bottled-in-bond, as others are so shortly after the U. S. Govt. 4 years' law limit, can possibly attain the rich, smooth, mellow taste and "double ripeness" of 7 to 8-year old Cedar Brook.

Always the same price at Leading Hotels, Bars, Clubs, etc. Always the Same Age. Bottled-in-Bond 7 to 8 Year Old.

MEXICANS LACK COURAGE

AGE SAYS MCGRATH

Tim McGrath, famous trainer of pugilists, doesn't think much of Mexican boxers.

Denver now boasts of a Mexican heavyweight named Joe Chavez, whom Colorado boxing experts are looking as a coming champion. Chavez recently lost a 20-round decision to Eddie Campi, the "Prisco" bantam.

McGrath witnessed the Campi-Chavez bout and upon being asked his opinion of the "Mex," made the following reply:

"Chavez is all that has been said of him as a boxer, but you can't make me believe that these Mexicans are game. Ring history is 'again' 'em. Any time you pick up the little record book you have these Diaz demons wringing across the floor looking for a dark corner."

"Old Pete Everett would travel like a Jeffries as long as he was out in front, but one poke on the nose and Pete was ready for a dive through the ropes."

"Terrell would have been a champion for me, but he was young and up tight enough. And Joe Rivers—what boy ever had a better chance at the lightweight title than he did against Bitchie? He beat Willie all over the ring in the early rounds, but the fighter found me mauling on his hunches winking at the referee to count faster."

"These fellows that hold their kettle flares along the railroad tracks and eat frijoles with a can-opener won't fire when the big pinch comes. They ain't built right."

"Campi has developed into 59 per cent, better boy than when he showed last. About the only thing Chavez will take home with him will be a spanking and a few sovereign cards of himself riding ostriches, alligators and such like. I have spoke."—Minneapolis News.

WORTHY OF TRIAL

The proposition advanced at the Columbus session to curtail the seasons of the International and American associations, so as to permit of an inter-league series, starting early in August, is well worth giving a trial. It is planned to have each club in the international play three games at home and three away with every club in the inter-league series. Undoubtedly a series such as this would create an enormous amount of interest. There has always been great rivalry between the two foremost near major leagues, and the engagements would serve in measure to settle the controversy as to which is the superior.—Toronto News.

Must Meet Walek

After his defeat of Leach, Cross the ring experts will have to admit that Willie Little is undisputed champion of America, but it is hard to see how Little can try any claim to be the lightweight champion of the world until he has backed up with Freddie Walek. It should be a great battle when these two boys get together.—Ottawa Journal.

Hockey's Wreck Victims

Reported among the victims of the great tragedies of the 1913-14 season, due to the terrible storm, was F. Bruce Cameron, of Collingwood, captain of the Wexford, and one of the prominent hockey players of that town, which last winter was the intermediate championship of the O.H.A. Captain Cameron, although a young man, was one of the hockey "stand-bys" of Collingwood and was on last season's list of players, although he did not participate in the final game. The sympathy of the O.H.A. and the entire hockey world is extended to the young widow in the hour of her affliction.—Toronto Star.

Funny Ain't It

It seems to be quite the proper time in football circles for the coaches to announce on the eve of important games that So-and-so, naming a star player, has broken back or concussion of the brain, or some other injury of more or less importance, and bottle his team's chances. Why this should be so, is a mystery. Last Sunday no fewer than three McGill stars were in a bad way, according to Shaughnessy, but nevertheless they were on hand.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
CURED A BAD ATTACK OF ECZEMA.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in a bad condition, and it is impossible to cure these eruptions from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can very easily do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It cures out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich, and not only are the unsightly diseases cured, but a bright clean complexion produced, but the entire system is renovated and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. C. A. Day, Sonerville, N.B., writes: "Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in two weeks time the skin began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1775—Tom Johnson (Jackling) defeated "Bill" Warr in a look battle for the championship in England. Johnson was then at the beginning of his long career as England's foremost fighting man. Peter Corcoran, an Irishman, then claimed the title, but this was decided in England, on the allegation that Bill Warr had sold his belt to the Hibernian. Johnson and Harry Sellers both claimed the title after the former had defeated Warr and the latter had shipped Corcoran, but Sellers died and Johnson defended his title against all comers for many years. Johnson was in his fortieth year when he engaged in his most memorable fight, that with Max Baer, the Birmingham giant, whom he defeated in 12 rounds. Perrine was about the same age. "Bill" Warr was Perrine's second in the great Banbury fight of 1785.

1908—Sam Langford defeated Young Peter Jackson in 13 rounds at Rochester.

1910—Jack Britton defeated Kid Parmer in 8 rounds at Memphis.

JOHNNY DUNDEE, 20 TOMORROW, IS A NATION OF SUNNY ITALY

Johnny Dundee, who recently graduated from the footballer's class after boxing Champion Kilbane to a 20-round draw, sometimes wears kilts for memento purposes. As a sportsman, he likes to live up to his name, that is where Johnny sets off. He is not Presbyterian, but he has worn the famous beverage that is usually coupled with soda, disposes oatmeal, wouldn't know a borscht if he met one in the street, and never quotes Double Burns or says, "Hot, man." As a matter of fact, Johnny's real moniker is Joseph Carson, and he was born in Sharkey, Italy, just 20 years ago tomorrow. The name of Johnny Dundee was wished on him by his manager, Scotty Monteith, about whose nationality there isn't the shadow of the ghost of a doubt.

Dundee fights with true Latin abandon. He rushes, swings, dodges, dances up and down, and is never quiet for a second. In the ring he looks like a personification of the St. Vitus dance operating under the head of steam, and he dazzles and bewilders his opponents by his fantastic motions. Ten rounds or 20, it is the same to Dundee. Apparently he never tires, and he finishes, as furiously as he begins. He lacks a knockout punch, but in these days the sleep lotion has become secondary, and his inability to send his opponents to dreamland may not prevent Dundee from realizing his ambition to climb to the top of the lightweight heap.

Dundee began fighting in 1911, but he did not win prominence as a featherweight until last year. In August, 1912, he boxed a 12-round draw with Matt Brown at Cleveland and the following month took on Johnny Kilbane for 16 rounds at New York. The champion had a little the better of the argument, but he did not win by any wide margin. Last November Dundee made his first trip to the Pacific coast and defeated Frankie Conley. In 19 rounds at McCarty's Vernon arena, he again headed for California, and in April he held Kilbane to a draw in 20 rounds at McCarty's Vernon arena. He then went into the lightweight division and was matched with Leach. Cross and Ad Wolcott, but the death of Phil Young, after a bout with Jess Willard, caused the cancellation of the Vernon bout. Later he took on Joe Azevedo, the Mexican fighter, and defeated him in a 20-round bout. If the bogus Scottzman maintains the pace, he will soon make the lightweight sit up and take notice.

EARL SOME STEPPER

London, Nov. 21.—Lord Lonsdale, England's sporting earl, the man who sets the fashion for the regular patrons of the race courses and other places where sportsmen gather, and whose dress is one of the attractions of the horse show, has had some other such occasions, has outdone himself this autumn.

At Newmarket last month he wore what a writer of fashion truly described as "piquant." Here is a description of the earl's attire. "He wore a chocolate brown suit, with stripes of a darker color. The morning coat was full skirted but saucy, with a large flap pocket on either side and two large buttons at the back. His black bowler was slightly cantal; his turn-over collar exhibited a tie of red, white and yellow; his waistcoat was white with yellow stripes, and was peculiarly long; his trousers were rather wide and turned up at the bottom, showing brown socks over patent leather shoes. His hair was medium sized and worn without a hair."

The West End tailors were ready with the chocolate brown suits, which are all the fashion this season, but the colored waistcoat and the tie have not yet been copied.

Harry Wolverton, who recently got into a scrap with Bill James, the Canadian Portland pitcher, recently declared that he got the worst of the argument, but also states that was the only way to settle the difference.

California 1913 citrus crop is estimated at 20,000 cars, lemons being placed at 2,500 cars and oranges at 25,500 cars.

UHLAN, GREAT TROTTER, USED AS SADDLE HORSE

Uhlán, the great trotter, will be one of the first champions to be used as a saddle horse. When C. K. Billings, his owner, takes the wonderful black gelding for his mount in his rides through the park he will have him riding the best of a string of 10 speedy trotters but in taking Uhlán, a champion, he will be practically setting a new fashion.

Many great trotters have been withdrawn from the track for driving purposes, some of the most famous being Stands S, 2, 08-8-4, and Sund, 2-93-1-4. In the old days, before the automobile, trotters were used in buying teams of trotters for friendly brushes, and retired champions found their way in to the stables of millionaires. But they were never used as saddle horses. Uhlán is nine years old and has been in training since he was four. He has never been ridden on the track, but could make a fine saddle horse and may be sent after the trotting record under saddle. His marks now include 1:58 to sulky, 2:00 to wagon, 2:03-1-4 in team with Lewis Forrest, 1:53-1-2 with running mate, and 2:03-4-2 to sulky with running mate.

Fred Bush, a brother of Joe Bush, the young star of the Athletics, has been signed by the Yankees. He pitched in the last season at Great Falls, Mont., during the last season.

Charles Elbert, owner of the Superbas, is trying to land a job as physician for Eddie Phelps, the veteran catcher. Phelps has been catching for something like 17 years and has seen his best days on the diamond.
